Professional Summary

Results-driven Full Stack Developer and UI/UX Designer with expertise in crafting scalable web and mobile applications, intuitive user interfaces, and data-driven AI solutions. Starting with WordPress in 2020, I have progressed to building high-performance Next.js and AWS-backed applications for global clients. Proficient in React, React Native, and Python-based AI models, I specialize in seamless user experiences and workflow optimization. My freelance work includes 15+ successful projects, showcasing adaptability, client focus, and a passion for innovation. Currently pursuing a BS in Information Technology, I aim to contribute to cutting-edge tech teams.
